STORY

Nylon Dawn is a modern-day noir thriller series that follows stunning Ashley Gable. Ashley is a young 23-year-old intern criminologist who comes to New Orleans from Detroit to find out who murdered her mother, “Nylon” Dawn Crowley, twenty years earlier in the famous Lafitte Reserve Murders. The bodies were dumped in the swamps southeast of the city.

Ashley as a police intern is pulled in to help investigate homicides. She soon runs into a series of Grifters, Con Men and eventually the sadistic murderers they wish to catch. Be careful what you wish for, too much knowledge can be dangerous for Ashley as her mother’s past might be predictive of her future.

Murder, Revenge, Extortion, and Exploitation are in full display cloaked in a façade of New Orleans glamour and style.

In the first season, we introduce Ashley's relationship with Zak Rubens a reporter, Alex Lawrence a fellow intern, and her mentor lead homicide Detective George Wells the. The season cliffhanger ends when we learn that Ashley may have found her father.

CHARACTERS

Ashley Gable

Ashley was raised by her grandmother after the murder of her mother when she was only 3. She has an old soul sense about her. Although she is very bright, she lacks street smarts. She is out of her element on the investigative team and can't always read people's evil intent. Her on the job training often puts her in danger, especially as she gets closer proving her mother's murder case.
